

The background of the image is a dark, textured relief carving from an ancient Egyptian tomb. On the right side, there is a large, detailed carving of a deity's head and upper torso. The deity has a lotus flower on their forehead, a long, wavy beard, and is wearing a large, ornate necklace with a circular pattern. On the left side, there is a smaller carving of a hand, palm facing up, with a bracelet on the wrist. The overall scene is set against a dark, weathered stone background.

A view of Earth from space, showing the planet's curvature and the sun's bright light creating a lens flare effect. The Earth is the central focus, with the sun positioned to the left, casting a glow over the scene. The background is a dark, star-filled space.

Rev 20:12:

And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged from the things which were written in the books, according to their deeds.

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have eternal life. (17) "For God did not send the Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world might be saved through Him. (18) "He who believes in Him is not judged; he who does not believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. John 3:16-18
